As an exchange student at the University of Sarajevo, I had the opportunity to attend stimulating lectures given by brilliant professors. Conferences and parallel events have further enriched the educational opportunity of studying at this University. Infrastructures of the University of Sarajevo, such as the Human Rights Library and the National Library of Bosnia Herzegovina have proven a very useful tool for my studying and researching activities. The city is a priceless environment, offering lots of possibilities for the free time. At same time, its dimension makes it very accessible and enjoyable. Cultural initiatives and the great nature surrounding the city have made my staying in Sarajevo an enriching experience even outside the academy.
